YUGOSLAVIA SIGNS ON DOTTED LINE: FAMILIAR CEREMONY IN VIENNA: USUAL ASSURANCES BY HERR VON RIBBENTROP Mass Protest Meetings: Regret Expressed In Turkey

YUGOSLAVIA SUBMITTED TO GERMAN PRESSURE YESTERDAY WHEN THE PRIME MINISTER AND FOREIGN MINISTER SIGNED THE TRIPARTITE PACT IN VIENNA, TO TAKE THE FIRST STEP TOWARDS GERMAN DOMINATION OF THE COUNTRY, STATES A LONDON MESSAGE.

There were some reservations but the general impression is that Yugoslavia will follow the fate of BULGARIA, HUNGARY and RUMANIA.

The ceremony at Vienna followed the now familiar course. After the Pact was signed HERR VON RIBBENTROP, NAZI FOREIGN MINISTER, made his usual speech in which he declared that the Yugoslav Government had expressed a wish to join the Pact and that the Powers concerned had agreed to comply with their wishes.

TERMS OF PACT

BERLIN, Mar. 25 (Reuter)—The adherence of Yugoslavia to the Tripartite Pact is announced by the official News Agency as follows:

"The Governments of Germany, Italy, and Japan on one hand and the Government of Yugoslavia on the other hand, through their respective plenipotentiaries, agreed as follows:

"ARTICLE ONE: Yugoslavia joins the Three-Power Pact signed in Berlin on Sept. 27, 1940, between Germany, Italy and Japan.

"ARTICLE TWO: In so far as concerns joint technical commissions provided for in Article Four of the Three-Power Pact, discussions of the commission which concerns the interests of Yugoslavia will be attended by representatives of Yugoslavia.

"ARTICLE THREE: The text of the Tripartite Pact is appended to the Protocol as foundation. The Protocol is drawn up in German, Italian, Japanese and Yugoslavian, each text having validity of an original document.

"It comes into operation on the day of signing."

Two Notes were handed to the Yugoslav representatives by the Axis Powers.

The first assures Yugoslavia that the German Government "reaffirms its determination to respect at all times the sovereignty and integrity of Yugoslavia."

The second Note declares that during the war, the Axis Powers would not make any demands on Yugoslavia to allow passage of or transit of troops through Yugoslav territory.

AIR AIM IS SUPERIORITY IN PERFORMANCE

"Our aim is superiority in performance and superiority in numbers," declared CAPT. H. R. BALFOUR, Under-Secretary for Air, speaking yesterday, states a London message.

"We can win the war only by offence. Over the Rhine, the Alps, in Germany, Italy and occupied territory the people are becoming increasingly aware of our growing strength."

"We must not think in terms of numbers only but two factors are outstanding—the technical quality of our aircraft and the personnel who man them."

Soviet Gives Assurance To Turkey

The statement made from Moscow giving TURKEY an assurance of respecting her neutrality and independence, begins with a denial of Press reports that if Turkey would take advantage of the opportunity to launch an attack on her, she would be met by a message from London.

"One hundred and twenty years ago, all that was noblest in England rejoiced in the achievements of your nation. Today that struggle is being repeated against greater odds, but with equal courage and with no less certainty of success."

"We in England know that your cause is a sacred cause, and we are resolved to sustain it."

King George of the Hellenes has sent a message to General Papagos, Commander-in-Chief of the Greek Forces, in which, after describing the Greek soldiers as intrepid, resolute and heroic, he said: "I congratulate you, General, because you are at the head of such men."

FROM MR. EDEN

Mr. Eden, the British Foreign Secretary, also sent a message in which he said:

"We are proud to serve beside such allies and we pledge ourselves to fight with them until final victory is won."

BURMA ROAD

CHUNGKING, Mar. 25 (Reuter)—Transportation over the Burma Road will be placed henceforth under the control of the South-West Transportation Bureau, the Chinese official CENTRAL DAILY NEWS announces this morning.

The new regulations, approved by the National Military Council, provide that henceforth all Government and private motor vehicles, carrying goods to China over the Burma Road, must be placed under the control of the South-West Transportation Bureau.

The damage caused by the R.A.F. to Berlin's industrial centre in recent raids is still being discussed by people in the Reich capital.

The message said: "On this day of proud memories, I want to add one brief tribute to those which the whole civilised world has paid to the Greek nation."

"One hundred and twenty years ago, all that was noblest in England rejoiced in the achievements of your nation. Today that struggle is being repeated against greater odds, but with equal courage and with no less certainty of success."

ALL WORKING CHEERFULLY

MR. R. G. MENZIES, the Australian Premier, stated yesterday, according to a London message, that he had just returned from a tour of half-a-dozen cities which had been "blitzed."

"In all of them I saw factories with thousands of cheerful workers in them. The workers said, 'This has happened to us but it is not going to happen to everybody if we can do anything about it.'"

REDUCTION IN SHIPPING LOSSES

Shipping losses due to enemy action for the week ending March 16 showed a substantial reduction on the figures for the previous week, states a message from London.

A total of 23 ships were lost, involving 71,700 tons—17 were British and the rest Allied.

The enemy have lost 300,000 tons of shipping in the last five weeks and the total enemy losses since the war began amount to 1,200,000 tons.

U.S. Squadron Arrive In Brisbane

BRISBANE, Mar. 25 (Reuter)—Every vantage point along the river front here was crowded by early risers to see the arrival of the American naval squadron.

A fleet of hurrying launches, rowboats and even racing shells turned out in large numbers in perfect sunny Queensland weather with all the ships gallily bedecked with flags.

The profusely decorated streets were filled from an early hour and trains brought thousands from country districts. Girls in offices worked feverishly late into the night tearing paper confetti to prepare a welcome to outdo Broadway and New York.

Pavements were thronged to see the march past of United States sailors and marines and local service units at midday.

PEOPLE WENT WILD

A hundred-thousand people in Queen Street alone went wild with enthusiasm and heavy barricades erected to keep back the crowds were broken down. It was the greatest and most enthusiastic crowd that had ever packed Brisbane.

Rear Admiral Newton, commanding the United States squadron, in a short address said: "We just dropped in to say that we in America are not very far from Australia after all. President Roosevelt's speech during the Lease and Lend Bill discussion reflected the feelings of the American people."

Berliners Discussing R.A.F. Damage To Industrial Centre

THE PEOPLE OF BERLIN ARE STILL DISCUSSING THE DAMAGE DONE TO THE CITY'S INDUSTRIAL CENTRE BY THE R.A.F. ON SUNDAY, states a message from London.

Some of the biggest bombs were dropped on the capital's many targets and the Germans have admitted the raid in one of their longest communiques they have yet issued.

The communique states that the whole of Britain experienced a raid was concentrated on Berlin's diplomatic quarter, including three important railway stations. This area contains twenty first-class military objectives.

One person who will have an opportunity of seeing the damage done by the R.A.F. to Berlin will be MR. MATSUOKA, THE JAPANESE FOREIGN MINISTER, who is due to arrive in the Reich capital either today or tomorrow.

Reports from Tokyo state that Mr. Matsuoka, who had talks with Mr. Stalin and M. Molotov, before he left Moscow, also saw Sir Stafford Cripps, the British Ambassador to the Soviet and the Ambassador of the Vichy Government.

Today's News Summary

YUGOSLAVIA HAS SUBMITTED to Nazi domination. Yesterday her Prime Minister and Foreign Minister signed the Tripartite Pact in Vienna amid the now familiar ceremonial. Regret is expressed in Turkey at Yugoslavia's submission but the protracted crisis has not caught American opinion unawares. Meanwhile, the Soviet has assured Turkey of her entire understanding and neutrality.

WITH THE IMPERIAL FORCES pushing along the narrow mountain roads towards Harar and the complete British control of British Somaliland completed, the story is revealed of the capture of Jaragub by Australian troops who were less in number than the Italian garrison.

ROTARY CLUB TIFFIN:

Interesting Talk On Life Of "Uncrowned King Of Samoa"

HIS VISIT, IN 1926, TO SAMOA, THE HOME FOR THE LAST FOUR YEARS OF HIS LIFE OF ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON, was the subject of an address before the Hongkong Rotary Club at their weekly tiffin meeting yesterday by Professor W. Brown who related in some detail the story of Robert Louis Stevenson, the "uncrowned king of Samoa," whose grave, on the summit of Mount Vaea, he had visited.

He left for Samoa on July 20, 1926, Prof. Brown related, and the voyage was a very stormy and demoralising one. The s.s. "Hal-ching" rolled and pitched in relentless manner and all on board, including the 450 coolies, were glad of the sight of Nauru, reached after a voyage of "17 days, 3,800 miles and 2,000,000 revolutions."

From Nauru, the voyage to Apia, in search of health, Stevenson, capital of Samoa, took another five months after his father's death, crossed the Atlantic and tried first the Eastern States of America and then California. By 1887, he was widely travelled in the Pacific in line of engineers and gloried in his search of a place where the climate would permit him health, and in Bell Rock Light on the East Coast of Scotland and Skerryvore on the West Coast. Stevenson cherished also the belief that among his progenitors was the "stout old rascal," Rob Roy.

From his mother, he inherited a sensitive temperament and a delicate constitution. He had early proclaimed his intent to become a writer, but on his father's wish that he would qualify for a profession capable of bringing him a calculable income, he attended law classes at Edinburgh University and was in time called to the Bar. This event he regarded as the greatest joke in his experience in a long time.

Popular with the natives, Stevenson was soon to become involved in local politics and at the risk of arrest and deportation he actively assisted the Mataafa party and became known as the "uncrowned king of Samoa." The highway leading up to "Vallina" was built for him by a number of the chiefs released from prison, in gratitude for the interest and help he had shown in their affairs. It was named "Ala Loto Alofa" or "The Road of the Loving Hearts."

In his Samoan days, Stevenson wrote the "Master of Ballantrae," "St. Ives," "The Ebb-Tide," "Island Nights Entertainments" and the fragment "Weir of Hermiston," which was never completed. He recorded also in verse tales he had picked up in his Pacific cruises, the "House of Rahero" being one of the best-known of these. He died in 1894 and was buried on the summit of Mount Vaea as he had wished.

Rotarian Dr. Arthur W. Wood presided at the meeting, and Visiting Rotarians who attended were Rotarian W. A. Stiles (Canton) and Rotarian J. W. Cairns (Manila). Among the guests were Messrs. J. Winter, C. B. Wong, K. L. Goodwin, Chengor Loh, L. M. S. Lloyd, A. G. Clarke, Leigh Turner and Vic Lebrum.

Flat Racing At Home

SEASON TO START AT LINCOLN TODAY

LONDON, Mar. 25 (Reuter).—Shorn of the usual peacetime glamour and bound by restrictions through wartime conditions, flat racing for the season begins with the Lincolnshire Handicap at Lincoln on Wednesday.

Despite the anti-sport element which has been responsible for the cancellation of the Grand National, one of the biggest turf spectacles in the world, with the exception of the Derby, the fact that racing has overcome more obstacles in the last nine months than in its whole history proves that it is generally required both as a successful breeding industry and a relaxation for all those participating in the war effort.

GREAT OPTIMISM. Despite conditions which require the rationing of foodstuffs, even for the reduced number of horses in training, there is great optimism, and owners of all types varying from a peer who was a former Secretary of State for India, to a Doncaster publican are competing for the first big prize.

Transport difficulties will naturally restrict attendance at the meeting, at which khaki and the air force blue will provide a splash of colour, and many jockeys will parade in the paddock with Air Force or Army overcoats over their silks.

YUGOSLAVIA SUCCUMBS TO GERMAN PRESSURE

MINISTERS EN ROUTE TO BERLIN FOR SIGNATURE OF PACT

LONDON, Mar. 25 (Reuter).—The Yugoslav Prime Minister, Dr. Dragisa Cvetkovitch, and the Foreign Minister, Dr. Aleksander Cincar-Markovitch, have left Belgrade for Germany, accompanied by Herr von Herren, the German Minister, according to a Belgrade dispatch to the German news agency.

Many members of the Government, including the Deputy Prime Minister, Dr. Matichuk, and also the Hungarian and Italian Ministers and the German Legation staff were present to see them off.

A message from Belgrade states that Dr. Matichuk, the Yugoslav Vice-Premier, and the Croat leader will be present at the signing of the Yugoslav-German Pact.

The special train taking Dr. Cvetkovitch and Dr. Cincar-Markovitch to Germany was most carefully guarded and precautions were taken throughout the capital in case of demonstrations.

PEOPLE IN THE DARK

The Yugoslav people are still being kept completely in ignorance. Decisions have been taken entirely without their knowledge.

It was predicted in well-informed quarters here yesterday that the pact with the Axis would be signed in Vienna today.

The Yugoslav Premier and Foreign Minister were reported to have left for Vienna last night. They were received by the Senior Regent, Prince Paul before leaving.

The note from Britain to the Yugoslav Government was presented by the British Minister yesterday morning.

BELGRADE RADIO

LONDON, March 25 (Reuter).—Reports reaching here from Belgrade state that the Board of Directors of the Belgrade radio station has been dissolved by order of the Government and that a State Commissar has been installed.

He is stated to be M. Jovanovitch, formerly chief censor and known for his pro-German tendencies.

Recently the Belgrade radio has been giving patriotic programmes which have stimulated the spirit of resistance of the public to the Government's policy of concessions to Germany.

GREEKS INCREDULOUS

Commenting on the report that Yugoslavia is about to sign a pact with the Axis agreeing to the transport of war materials across Yugoslav territory, a Greek Press Ministry statement broadcast by the Athens radio declares: "The Greek people refused to believe that the Yugoslav people could ever accept a condition so humiliating to themselves or so inimical to Greece."

According to the Vichy controlled Lyons radio, the Yugoslav pact with the Axis is to be signed today.

It will be similar to the pacts with other minor Axis Powers with the exception of Paragraph 5 dealing with the passage of German troops through the country.

FOR THE 1 MAN IN 7 WHO SHAVES EVERY DAY

A Special Shave Cream—It's Not a Soap, Needs No Brush!

Daily shaving leaves many men's faces raw and sensitive. Yet, because of his business and social status, one out of every 7 men must shave every day.

To meet this condition, Williams has now developed GLIDER—a special cream for daily shaving. With no soap base, it's a complete departure from ordinary shave creams. No brush. No lather. No sticky or greasy.

A superabundance of moisture is contained in this rich cream. It won't dry on your face. Applied with the fingers, it quickly softens each whisker. A protective layer is formed over which your razor glides. Off comes each hair at the base without scraping. Like a cold cream, Glider helps keep your skin smooth all day. Glider is the result of nearly 100 years' experience in making fine shaving preparations.

U.S.-CANADIAN AGREEMENT

Warship Construction In Great Lakes

WASHINGTON, Mar. 25 (Reuter).—Canada and the United States are to build Army and Navy vessels in shipbuilding yards on the Great Lakes.

The conclusion of an agreement on this point was announced by the United States' Administration yesterday. The agreement is the climax to the negotiations which have been in progress for the past two years. It involves a new interpretation of the Rush-Bagot Agreement of 1817 governing naval operations in the Great Lakes.

The new agreement lays down that the vessels are not intended for service in the Great Lakes, that each government must furnish the other full details before beginning construction, that warships may be built with full armaments but the latter must be incapable of immediate use while the vessels remain on the Lakes, and that vessels must be moved promptly from the Lakes on completion.

British Note to the Yugoslav Government is in the nature of a last-moment appeal and warning.

It states the British attitude once again and appeals to them not to betray Yugoslavia's past in the face of rising public opinion.

British official circles in Cairo comment that the British Government has repeatedly made it clear that were Yugoslavia to follow the example of Rumania and Bulgaria, she would do herself mortal injury and that in no circumstances could they condone the signature of any agreement which would inevitably range her beside Germany and Italy.

MR. MATSUOKA AT KREMLIN

Gifts Presented To Stalin & Molotov

MOSCOW, Mar. 25 (Reuter).—After lunching with the German Ambassador at the German Embassy, the Japanese Foreign Minister, Mr. Yosuke Matsuoka, accompanied by Lieut-General Tatekawa, the Japanese Ambassador in Moscow, visited M. Molotov at the Kremlin yesterday.

M. Stalin was present at the interview. With M. Molotov was M. Lozovsky Vice-Commissar for Foreign Affairs.

Mr. Matsuoka also attended a reception to the diplomats of countries adhering to the Three Power Pact held at the Japanese Ambassador's residence.

Previously the Japanese Foreign Minister had sent gifts to M. Stalin and M. Molotov through the Commissariat of Foreign Affairs. The gift for M. Stalin was a thirteenth-century Japanese screen decorated with hunting scenes while that for M. Molotov was a lacquer box on which a Japanese shrine was painted in gold and silver.

CHINESE MISSION IN INDIA

NEW DELHI, Mar. 25 (Reuter).—An unofficial Chinese goodwill military mission led by General Shang Chen, has arrived here.

During its stay, extending to Thursday, the mission will be entertained by the Viceroy and the Commander-in-Chief.

It will leave on Thursday for a three-week tour of places of military importance in India, including the north-west frontier, particularly Peshawar, and also Poona and Chauraha from where it will return to China.

Some flew along Unter Der Linden within a mile or so of which are five of the main railway stations—keeping on a steady course in order to take their aim.

Others directed their bombs at fires which the first wave of British aircraft had started and others attacked goods yards and factories south of the city.

Polish crews took part in the raid. Many of the British crews had often made the trip before.

Ten thousand incendiaries and some of the heaviest high explosives were rained on Berlin. In the areas selected for the main attack, a great number of bombs were seen to explode, some in the centre of

Violent Fighting Raging In Outskirts Of Kaoan

Japanese Garrison In Dire Straits: Fall Imminent

SHANGKAO, March 25 (Central).—The Japanese in Kaoan, important north Kiangsi city, are in a critical position as Chinese forces are hammering at the city in a vigorous counter-attack. Fighting is raging in the outskirts of the city with increasing violence, with the Chinese battering their way forward.

Advancing along the south bank of the Chin River, the main Chinese force is engaging in a frontal attack on Kaoan, while two other columns are co-operating in flank operations. Practically surrounded, Kaoan is expected to fall shortly.

A Japanese detachment which pushed to Shintowai, Szuki and Kwauchiao southwest of Kaoan has been intercepted by the Chinese and heavily decimated. Owing to severe casualties sustained during the past few days, majority of the Japanese troops on the north bank of the Chin River are being withdrawn to the southern bank.

Following the recovery of Tuchen, on the northern bank of the Kan River, on March 22, Chinese forces have pushed further to the north of the city in pursuit of the fleeing Japanese.

Mopping-up operations are being carried out in the suburbs of the city to round up stragglers.

CHINESE MOPPING-UP

The Japanese operating in the Fensin area have also been dispersed as a result of persistent Chinese attacks during the past several days.

Japanese units at Hwanghsia and Loangkai west of Fensin have suffered severe losses and have abandoned numerous dead in their flight.

SEVERE LOSSES

On the west bank of the Kan River, the Japanese have also suffered severely. Under the cover of darkness on March 19, a large Japanese contingent attempted to steal a march across the river in Chinese native boats and steam launches to attack Fengcheng.

When they reached mid-stream, they were shelled by Chinese shore batteries on the opposite bank and many of the vessels were sunk with all the men and munitions on board.

More than 500 Japanese were killed and numerous prisoners taken following a severe engagement with the Chinese on March 20 near Shengcheng on the southern bank of the Chin River. War booty seized included machine-guns and more than 200 rifles. They are continuing attacks on the city.

the target. Flashes of larger bombs lit up the factories at which they were aimed.

Fire after fire sprang up, glowing red with a suffused glare through the mist.

On the way back from Berlin, several British aircraft passed over Hanover which was also attacked in force, and the pilots saw fierce explosions in the heart of the city.

VITAL POSITIONS IN ABYSSINIA CAPTURED BY BRITISH FORCES

NAIROBI, Mar. 25 (Reuter).—The whole of British Somaliland is again under British control and the road from Berbera to Hargaysa is now open. This announcement was made in yesterday's communiqué here which also announces further successes in Abyssinia.

British forward troops attacked strong Italian positions holding a pass just west of Jijiga, capturing vital positions after strong opposition. British losses in this engagement were slight.

Distant centres of administration in Abyssinia, some of which are 400 miles from the British lines of communication, are being taken over by air-borne troops, accompanied by political officers.

AERIAL ACTIVITY

CAIRO, Mar. 25 (Reuter).—In Abyssinia the South African Air Force continued to prepare the way for the advancing British troops. Enemy road and all communications between Dire-dawa and Awash were heavily attacked.

At Urso, many bombs hit a supply train moving towards Dire-dawa. Other trains were attacked at Mieso and Awash. Several trucks were left overturned.

Twenty trucks and some troops at Metahara, near Addis Ababa, were machine-gunned. Fires were seen at Awash after mechanical transport was attacked.

NAIROBI, Mar. 25 (Reuter).—An after lunch scene in which Sir Delves Broughton is alleged to have burst into tears after saying how upset he was about Lord Erroll's death, for Lady Broughton's sake, was related in evidence at the continued hearing of the charge against Broughton of murdering Erroll.

Reference was also made to an incident at dinner on the night before the tragedy when it was alleged that Broughton toasted Lady Broughton and Erroll and wished them every happiness for the future. The subject of an heir was mentioned and Broughton toasted Lady Broughton, Lord Erroll and their future child.

WISDOM OF IMMIGRATION MEASURE QUESTIONED BY BISHOP HALL

ANNUAL MTG. OF H.K. REFUGEE AND SOCIAL WELFARE COUNCIL

AN APPEAL FOR A GREATER UNDERSTANDING FROM THE PEOPLE OF HONGKONG, AND ESPECIALLY FROM THOSE WHO ARE THE NATURAL LEADERS OF THE PEOPLE, toward the responsibility that rests with them in initiating social reform, was made yesterday by the Bishop of Victoria, the Rt. Rev. R. O. Hall, when he addressed the annual meeting of the Hongkong Refugee and Social Welfare Council.

Bishop Hall questioned also the wisdom of the recent immigration measure and expressed the hope that it would remain only a war measure, suggesting that the measure was in the nature of a barrier between two nations, and one that could prove difficult to break down.

Referring to the need to remedy some of the most glaring inequalities of social life that were evident in Hongkong, Bishop Hall suggested also that the fault for these lay more in the resistance to social reform that could be sensed in the Community rather than the attitude to this question of Government.

The meeting was held at St. John's Cathedral Hall, with the Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo in the Chair. On the platform with the Chairman were Bishop Hall, the Rt. Rev. H. Valtorta, the Very Rev. J. L. Wilson, Miss E. S. Atkins, Mr. T. M. Sung, Miss J. R. Taylor, Professor L. Forster, Mr. J. M. Wong, Major Ponting, S.A., and the Rev. A. P. Rose.

Among those who also attended the meeting were the Hon. Mr. R. A. C. North, Hon. Sir Robert Kote-wall, Mrs. N. L. Smith, Mr. Ho Kam-tong, Mr. Gockehin, Mr. Tsol Po-tin, Mr. Wong Man-lam, Mr. George She, Mr. Lo Kwok-lim, the Rev. Frank Short, Dr. Wong Man and many others.

BISHOP HALL'S SPEECH

Bishop Hall said, in part, "Some of us may doubt the wisdom of the recent immigration measure and we may nourish the hope that it is, and will remain, only a war measure, which will be discontinued when the happy days of peace return."

"Hongkong is joined to South China as inevitably as the Island is joined to Kowloon. Barriers between nations unfortunately have, just the opposite nature to stone walls. They are easily erected, but are often difficult to break down. Let us remember that in days of peace to pay 20 cents for a deck chair on the Canton night steamer is to many of us a matter of as little effort as to pay 10 cents to cross the ferry."

ROAD IMPROVEMENT

"It is the great hope, therefore, of many of us that immigration restriction is a war measure only. I rejoice every day when I drive out now to Shatin to see the vigorous energetic, far-sighted road improvement that is going on."

"Now, I say to myself, 'I am on the Hankow highway. This is an expression of Hongkong's faith in the future of South China and in Sino-British co-operation.'"

Touching on what advantages could accrue from the institution of the immigration measure, Bishop Hall continued:

"They have taken away the argument of those who claim that the establishment of social services in Hongkong will draw into the city the poor and destitute from all South China."

FALLACIOUS ARGUMENT

"I believe this argument to be fallacious."

"I would urge the Council, particularly the Research Department, to be quick and sensitive to see the opportunity provided by the immigration regulations to press with wisdom and initiative for social regulations to remedy some of the most glaring inequalities of social life in Hongkong."

"A small survey I made some years ago showed that a miserable and mean street near the old G.C.H. actually paid more in rates than an area ten times as large of road and housing in what is known as a residential district, and of course received, in return, for the rates it paid, about one-tenth of the services the residential area received."

"I must also add that the resistance of social reform in this Colony, as I have sensed, it has been resistance by the Community rather than by Government."

THE GUILTY MEN

"It is we, we who are members of the Community, who in this case are, 'the guilty men.' It is we, ordinary citizens, who must take responsibility for the inertia, the unwillingness, the stupidity and the lack of vision, which results not only in poverty and misery, but in disease."

"I am pretty confident that if the Medical Department of Government could publish an analysis of the recent cholera cases, we would find that the main reason for this new outbreak is not due to nightsoil or selling fruit in the street, but simply and directly to the cost of firewood, the high cost of rice and the terribly low rate of wages."

"I wish everyone here could have been, as I was, in the streets in Yau-mat on the day when the Government wood was first put on sale. The street was alive with a new feeling—almost as if peace had been declared."

USE OF CHING FU

"The name 'Government' (Ching Fu) was being used in a way in which one all too seldom hears it used—as a kindly and helpful father conferring a great benefit on his children."

"This seems to be a much more intelligent activity of Government than the burning on the hillsides by the police of pathetic little bundles of wood, burning which still goes on in an attempt to keep some of our wood thieves out of prison."

"I very much hope that before long similar co-operation between the Community and Government officials will bring down considerably, and permanently the price of rice. If it is true that Government action can so quickly and efficiently bring down prices and increase the consumption of essential commodities, then surely this must become a permanent part of the life of an intelligent city."

"Where the people's food is concerned, there is no justification for unintelligent handling of supplies."

"The future of this city, perhaps also the future of democracy, does not depend upon any particular political theory, but on the deepest and fullest co-operation between employed Government servants and the natural leaders of the Community."

NATURAL LEADERS

"By natural leaders, I do not mean only those who lead in the control of money or who influence the thoughts of the people, but those skilled workmen, those tireless, patient coolies, and those sturdy undefeatable women, whose dogged labour builds our roads and our homes."

"This Council stands not only for co-operation between different sections of the Community in the establishment of a better city, but as a vehicle of co-operation between the Government and the Community."

"Let us go forward then in spite of the anxieties and the limitations of the present political atmosphere, determined that our part in the struggle for democracy and freedom will be to make this city more worthy of the ideals for which our fellow countrymen in China, in England and on the high seas are daily giving their lives."

SAVAGE KILLING OF CONSTABLE

ASSISTED IN RAID ON WOODCUTTERS

Chinese constable D187, Wang Teh-shing, attached to Gough Hill Police Station, was found with a stab wound on the right neck and the left side of his body mutilated in the hillsides above Po Shan Road and Kowloon Road, Upper Levels, shortly after noon on Monday, after carrying out a raid on a number of tree wood thieves.

He died on the way to Queen Mary Hospital. It was learned that immediately after information had been received by the Police that a large number of persons were cutting trees in the vicinity at about 11 a.m., Sgt. Willerton and the deceased were despatched to round them up. On reaching the hillsides, the two split, and that was

Breach Of H.K. Defence Regulations

Chinese Businessmen Heavily Fined

Fines ranging from $250 to $1,000 and totalling $9,000 were imposed by Mr. H. G. Sheldon at the Central Magistracy yesterday on 14 masters and managers of Chinese firms, summoned for attempting to send letters out of the Colony other than by post, which offence is a breach of the Defence Regulations.

All defendants were represented by the Hon. Mr. Leo D'Almada, Jr., instructed by Mr. H. A. de Barros Botelho, who pleaded guilty.

In mitigation, Mr. D'Almada said that his clients were all ignorant of the regulations and the reason why they adopted this system of conveying letters out of the Colony was because of the inadequacy of postal service in war-time China.

THE DEFENDANTS

The defendants and their respective fines were:—Lai Ming-jong, of No. 8, Hillier Street, Tung Chung-wai, of No. 11, Bonham Strand, Li Yam-nam, of No. 74 Jervois Street, Kwok Chuk-wah, of No. 45, Bonham Strand, East, and Hung On-to, of No. 73, Jervois Street, were fined $1,000 each; Woo Wai-pul, of No. 33, Jervois Street, Wong Wing-kam, of No. 19, Jervois Street, Leung Cho, of No. 225, Wing Lok Street, Wong Tak-yu, of No. 13, Bonham Strand, Hu Keng-yan, of No. 225, Wing Lok Street, Hon Shum-kwong, of No. 68, Bonham Strand West, and Ip Pui, of No. 6, New Market Street, were fined $500 each; Lam Keet-tak, of No. 15, Bonham Strand West and Fun Kwai-ping, of No. 269, Des Voeux Road Central, were fined $250 each.

Mr. D.C.W. Fitches, Superintendent of Mails, prosecuted.

ARTISTS TO BUY PLANE FOR CHINA

Chinese artists in Hongkong and Macao, including painters, cartoonists, calligraphists, dramatists, sculptors, musicians and photographers, will be mobilised for a campaign to raise funds for the purchase of a plane for the National Government. The plane will be christened "Chinese Artists."

A decision to the above effect was reached at a meeting of a group of Chinese artists in Hongkong at Cafe Windsor under the chairmanship of Mr. Kao Chien-fu, eminent Chinese painter. Prominent among those present were Mr. Y. M. Liang, well-known painter of aeroplanes, who recently held an exhibition of his works here, Mr. Wu Kung-hu, Mr. Huang Shao-chiang, Mr. Chao Shao-ang, Mr. Chang Cheng yu, and Mrs. George Hsu, wife of the late noted jurist.

A preparatory committee for the campaign was formed with some 50 members from various fields of art, those prominent being Messrs. Yeh Kung-cho, Y.M. Liang, Kan Yau-man, Kao Chien-fu, Pao Shao-yu, Ho Tieh-hwa, Wu Pui-shu, Lu Tan-ling, and Chan Kuen-chiu.

It is expected that the campaign will soon assume a national character. A circular telegram will be despatched to the artists in China, exhorting them to make enthusiastic response to it.

A meeting of the preparatory committee was scheduled for Saturday.

The Hon. Mr. W. J. Carrie was in the Chair, and other Members of the Council present were Dr. N. C. MacLeod, Hon. Mr. A. B. Purves, Hon. Mr. R. A. C. North, Hon. Mr. C. G. By-law 2 (1) of the Schedule was amended to read:

"The Council shall provide a departmental service or employ contractors for the removal of excremental matter from all buildings (where not fitted with water closets) in the following districts: (a) The Island of Hongkong, (b) The Island of Apichau, (c) Kowloon and that portion of New Kowloon lying to the west of a line drawn from a point on the sea-shore 200 yards east of the village of Ngau Tau Kok due north to the northern boundary of New Kowloon."

ADDITION TO SCHEDULE

After By-law 7 (2) of the Schedule, the following paragraph is added:—

"(3) Any person other than the servant of a conservancy contractor or to the Urban Council or a servant of the Sanitary Department who conveys or causes to be conveyed along any street or public place or upon the waters of the Colony any excremental matter, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $100 and to confiscation of all gear, cart, carriage, receptacle or vessel used for any such purpose."

APPLICATIONS REFUSED

The meeting refused an application for a swine licence on Crown Land at Shauiwan (South of Kam Wa Street and immediately in front of the Shauiwan Flushing Public Latrine) on the ground that the site was much too near a built-up area.

An application for a food preserving licence for No. 198, Temple Street, ground floor, was refused on the ground that the premises were too old and dilapidated and of a type difficult to keep clean.

An application was also refused for a food factory (A) licence for No. 62, Wai Ching Street, ground floor, for the reason that the premises were also unsuitable and too small.

NAZI BULLYING

THE REPORT that the Prime Minister and Foreign Minister of Yugoslavia have left for Vienna at Herr Hitler's behest to sign on the dotted line, despite the tremendous opposition which has become apparent in the country to any agreement with the Axis Powers, shows to what an extent the Nazis have been able to carry their bullying tactics. The fact that the German Führer, to all intents and purposes, was prepared to accept what is described as a compromise agreement, is evidence of his desperate need to reach some sort of understanding with Yugoslavia, without which the hitch to his Balkan plans might have become aggravated. His readiness to accept such an agreement must also be considered in the light of the past experience of the pledges he has so often given and the Yugoslavia Government will find that promises to respect the neutrality and independence of their country mean no more to Herr Hitler than the scraps of paper on which they are written. In these circumstances, therefore, when this so-called compromise agreement becomes a fait accompli, it will really mean the passing of Yugoslavia under the Nazi yoke.

WHAT IS astonishing is that this Nazi bullying could have succeeded to the extent it has against the almost popular feelings in the country. These feelings arose as a result of the indisputable evidence which the people of Yugoslavia have had presented to them of the steadily growing successes of Britain and her allies in the Mediterranean war zone. The defeat of the Italians in Albania and Africa and the contemptuous showing of Signor Mussolini's fleet against the Royal Navy have not blinded the Yugoslavian people as to which way the tide of battle was flowing. That their opposition to any partnership with the Axis can be so flagrantly ignored clearly shows how subtly Nazi influence has been able to cajole those in responsible Government positions to fall in with their plans. The constitutional crisis which has now arisen in Yugoslavia and the split in the Cabinet provide those who have been watching the developments in the Balkans with the clearest proof of the disgust and increasing anger of the peoples in South East Europe against the whole Nazi system and their increasing sympathies for Britain and her allies.

IN BRITAIN itself there is a real appreciation of the difficulties with which the people of Yugoslavia are faced. It is realised that once again a free and independent country is being betrayed by leaders who have seen fit to commit their people to an ignominious position which will reduce them to slavery under Nazi rule. The fact that the people were not willing to accept this position not say that the other method was exclusive.

REMEDY THE EVILS OF COMPETITION
BETWEEN EXISTING AGENCIES

The Chairman: Did you write a confirming minute referring to the interview and the decision arrived at?—No.

It strikes me as rather an unusual form of agreement between yourself and Mr. Kobza and not between Government—Myself as Immigration Officer.

The agreement was prepared by an independent firm of solicitors. Did you see the Crown Solicitor?—No. I drafted the agreement myself. Mr. Kobza took it to the solicitors without consulting me.

DID NOT TAKE ADVICE

Did you take any advice from the Government advisers on this agreement?—No.

Did you make any report that you intended to make such an agreement?—No.

Replying to another question, Mr. Forrest said he did not send a copy of the agreement to the Colonial Secretariat or the Crown Solicitor.

The Chairman: You have heard the criticism of this agreement by Mr. Pudney and Mr. Pollard.

Mr. Forrest: Both, I may say, misconceived it. Both misunderstood the meaning of the word agency.

The Chairman: That may be so but you cannot exclude the fact that this agreement does establish a contractual relationship. You are a party not the public.

Mr. Forrest said that general agent was for co-ordinating the work of the existing agencies and was to remedy the evils of competition between them.

ACCOUNTABLE TO CLIENTS

The Chairman: These existing agencies were accountable to you. They were accountable to their clients.

What happened to the money collected as fees?—The majority paid their money to me but not a few of them got away with it.

Why did you when drafting this particular agreement, which I have before me or when signing the completed draft, make the stipulation for the appointment of an outside firm of auditors?—Because I felt that in a sense I was engaging the Government and my own department to trust the integrity of a firm. I had to take a certain amount of responsibility in the integrity of the management of that firm. I have never heard of Government auditing outside firms. I was, in a sense, inducing the public to entrust their money as well as their affairs to the general agent—I had to ensure that the public had to trust in something trustworthy.

If you were hesitant on the score of integrity would not it have been the more usual course to select a general agent by form of tender secured by the usual guarantee?—I had no doubt whatever. The appointment of Messrs. Linstead and tamely will stand to their credit, and they may be sure that their attitude will not be forgotten when the day of their liberation comes. It was in this spirit that the British Minister in Belgrade took the opportunity to inform the Yugoslavian Government of how the British Government would regard any linking up of the country with Britain's enemies. He stressed the value of their interests and friendship and warned them against the dangers that lie ahead in making such a decision.

Whether the agreement between Yugoslavia and the Axis Powers provides only for the transport of hospital supplies or foodstuffs makes not the slightest difference to the fact it has committed the country to helping the Axis Powers. The country will thus have to be regarded as having made a gesture which is unfriendly to Britain and will lose the right to British sympathy. British policy towards Yugoslavia in the future will have to be guided by the extent to which this submission to Nazi bullying develops.

Davis as auditors was Mr. Kobza's own suggestion not mine.

NO PROVISION

It is provided here that the general agent should open an account in the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank. There is no provision whatever for making that account operable by himself—I have known Mr. Kobza for a number of years and I know him as a man of honour and I am certain he would not be guilty of misappropriation. At the same time I had a certain amount of doubt about his capacity as a businessman and it was for that reason that I suggested that the account be opened in order that no scandal should arise in connexion with the general agent.

The Chairman: I am not suggesting misappropriation at all, nor that any is likely, far from it.

In reply to further questions, Mr. Forrest said he believed there were two accounts on the Kobza Art Studio.

The Chairman: Does that not strike you as strange for the general agent to bank his money and draw cheques in his name?

Mr. Forrest replied that what particular reason there was for using the name of Kobza Art Studio he could not answer.

SURROUNDED BY RACKETS

The Chairman: Why is it that feeling profoundly as you did that your own staff was not above suspicion, that the other agencies were corrupt, that you were surrounded by rackets and racketeers, why is it you were so convinced that Mr. Kobza as general agent would bring a solution to all these problems and difficulties?—I was convinced of getting closer control of the activity of the other agents.

And at no time did you make any report on this agreement?—I did not mention it until the occasion arose when Mr. Pudney first questioned this appointment officially. I at once, as far as I remember, took Mr. Kobza and visited Mr. Pudney. I would say that if there was no formal report of the existence of a general agent no attempt was made or could be made to keep its existence a secret.

That is hardly an explanation. Have any of your brother officers entered into an agreement without consulting the Government or officers of the Crown?—I cannot say off hand, but there may be some such cases.

NOTICES POSTED

Mr. Woo then asked questions regarding certain notices in Chinese which were posted outside the Immigration Office in Marina House.

Replying, Mr. Forrest said that in connexion with the photography in the cockpit of the premises, he did not mention the name of Kobza Art Studio because he did not want to advertise and only wished the public to know that the facilities were there.

Mr. Woo: It is quite possible for one of your clerks to represent himself as an agent of Mr. Kobza?—That is possible, with or without the notice.

Mr. Woo next referred to a notice appearing outside the General Agents' office, No. 3, Wyndham St., stating that the General Agent had been authorised to grant temporary entry permits in circumstances and that persons in possession of such permits would not be required to furnish any deposits.

HAD DISCRETION

Mr. Forrest referred Mr. Woo to Section 9 of the Immigration Control Ordinance and said that he had discretion.

The Chairman asked if Mr. Forrest relied on Section 9 for the power of delegation.

Mr. Woo also drew attention to a notice concerning the repayment of deposits.

Mr. Woo: The public was encouraged to go to the general agent?

Mr. Forrest replied this was in order that things could be done quicker.

The Chairman then questioned Mr. Forrest on the extension of his agreement with Mr. Kobza from three to five years.

Mr. Forrest: I became aware of a movement against the general agency system.

Mr. Forrest added that what the Executive Council did mind was the existence of one monopoly in the Colony but they did not mind a number of district monopolies.

The Chairman asked Mr. Forrest if he was prepared to state that what the Clerk of Councils had recorded was wrong.

Mr. Forrest: The record of the Clerk of Councils is not complete and never can be complete.

CORRESPONDENCE

RECOMMENDATION
BY A.R.P.

To The Editor, H. K. Daily Press
Dear Sir.—The work on the census figures should be completed by 5th April, 1941, and after this date, the services of some thirty clerks who have been employed on this responsible duty must be terminated. They include a Wireless Operator, typists, schoolmasters, clerks, etc.

During their employment on clerical duties in this office, they have carried out their duties with speed and meticulous care. The fact that all are also fully qualified Wardens greatly adds to their value, as should an emergency arise, these men and women would be of inestimable help to any business firm who is fortunate enough to have a call on their services.

If the above statement appeals to any employer requiring clerical or other assistance, and application is made to this office, I should be only too pleased to send their names and other particulars.

Yours faithfully,
A. H. STEELE PERKINS
Director of Air Raid Precautions.

THREE WEDDINGS
AT REGISTRY

The following weddings took place at the Registry, Supreme Court, yesterday, with Mr. J. Reynolds Deputy Registrar of Marriages, officiating:—

Mr. Wong Kwok-hau, merchant, of No. 632 Shanghai Street, second floor, and Miss Chan King-oi, of No. 92 Fa Yuen Street, first floor.

Mr. Chau Yat-sun, civil servant of the Chinese Central Government, of No. 65 Gloucester Road, third floor, and Miss Mou Sul-chau, of No. 120 Caine Road, second floor.

Mr. Ho Siao-chau, merchant, of No. 30 Ko Shing Street, first floor, and Miss Fan Tsun-ying, of No. 79 Lockhart Road, first floor.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mr. Reginald Wilson Owens, representative of Parke, Davis and Co., and residing at Peninsula Hotel, and Miss Allison Jeanette Fisher, of No. 7 Middle Road, Kowloon.

Mr. Chu Pak-chen, merchant, of No. 70 Parkes Street, first floor, and Miss Lee Hang-to, of No. 14 Bulkeley Street, ground floor.

After Mr. Forrest had finished reading his memorandum in the morning he was asked by the Chairman whether he was not aware, when he was appointed Immigration Officer, that he would have charge of a large amount of Government revenue as he would be selling permits for cash.

Mr. Forrest replied in the affirmative. Replying to further questions, Mr. Forrest stated that it was his wish that each shroff should keep a cash book, but he could not say whether such a cash book was instituted.

The Chairman:—There was no deposit ledger?—There were no deposits until the Ordinance came into force on January 15.

SCRAMBLE ALONG

You stated that on Jan. 15 you would be ready. Did that include the fact that you would have an accounting system?—No, that meant that on Jan. 15 I would be able to scramble along somehow.

On Dec. 18, the Chinese Chamber of Commerce applied for a further postponement to which you were strongly opposed. Did that not give the public the impression that by January 17 you would be quite ready?—Not necessarily. I was anxious to come to grips with the work of the Department in order to see what was required.

Regarding the collection of large sums of money by unsecured members of the staff, the Immigration Officer stated that when he found out the men had to receive large sums of cash he took immediate steps to remove the necessity of their doing so.

Asked whether, during his 21 years service with the Government, he knew of anyone handling Government funds without being

BRITAIN SPEAKS:

INTELLECTUAL ACTIVITY IN ENGLAND TODAY: ADULT EDUCATION INCREASING

"In spite of the difficulties and handicaps of the present day, our people here want to learn and to argue on things they want to know about and out of that will come a great democratic community," said MR. J. B. PRIESTLEY, the well-known novelist, when he gave his weekly talk from London yesterday in the series "Britain Speaks."

Mr. Priestley gave a picture of life in England today and he dissipated the old idea of a lethargic and sleepy England in which intellectual advancement was lagging behind and in which little interest was being taken by the ordinary people in world affairs.

MANY CHANGES

Mr. Priestley, who was addressing his remarks to the people of America, said that the purpose of these talks was to give them a true conception of the British people and how they were reacting to the many changes that are taking place in England now.

"I want you to understand the kind of people you are helping," said Mr. Priestley. "This seems to me a very important thing. The situation, of course, is immensely complicated now owing to the fact that things are changing so rapidly. You yourselves have sent out various observers here who must be taking back reports that must be of high value."

"I have had many talks with such observers, but there is a great deal that is happening here that cannot be reported upon, because such men would not have the time to investigate them fully, because, not living here as I do, they would lack the standard of concentration required for it."

"I don't want, therefore, to repeat what others have told you, but I do believe that a man knows best what he himself has experienced and even at the risk of being charged with talking of myself, I feel that that is the more honest way of approaching my subject."

ADULT EDUCATION

Mr. Priestley then went on to give a description of a journey made by him to a small village in Lancashire to which he had been invited to address a body which had been organised for the purpose of increasing adult education.

"There is in England today a great deal of organised adult education," said Mr. Priestley. "The Universities began it by sending out lecturers and starting organised classes under the University Extension Scheme. So much so that in the County of Cambridge, for instance, there are actually village colleges."

"This village in Lancashire," continued Mr. Priestley, "has a men's discussion group and, once a year they organise a rally when they invite representatives from similar bodies in neighbouring villages to address them. This year, they came down from their distinguished selection of lecturers and invited me."

Mr. Priestley described how he had been met by a young educationist and his wife, who had devoted their lives to furthering adult education. There were not many such people who had dedicated their lives to a work which brought no spectacular rewards and who carried it on simply because they believed in what they were achieving.

GREAT ACHIEVEMENTS

"It is on such achievements that the world of democracy and civilisation can be built," said Mr. Priestley, who went on to say that when he arrived in the village hall he found it packed.

"For an hour I spoke to them about the future of democracy. I had been asked whether I would object to questions at the end of

An appeal was recently made, by the British Government for people to give or sell their binoculars to the Government and so assist the war effort. Gerry Wilmot, the genial Canadian commentator, went down to the receiving depot with a recording van and described the scene as members of the public came in with binoculars. Many who came to sell gave instead. This picture shows Gerry Wilmot surrounded by binoculars of all sizes and values. His description of the scene was broadcast in the BBC's Overseas Service.

AMERICAN Y.W.C.A. HONOURS MADAME CHIANG KAI-SHEK

CHUNGKING (By Air Mail): American women's recognition of the indomitable spirit and valiant deeds of Chinese womanhood during the war as exemplified by Madame Chiang Kai-shek was extended on March 20 in the form of an emblem presented to the First Lady by the Young Women's Christian Association of the United States.

my talk, and I had said that I would welcome them.

"I had learned to think that this business of asking questions usually would not work. The sensible people are too shy to ask them and the few who get up to do so are not very sensible, and then the whole thing flops and the chairman, in an anti-climax, brings the meeting to an end."

"This time, however, there were plenty of questions and good questions and the men knew how to put them. They were all genuine rural workers and I never want a better audience. They were quick to see a point and the way in which they put their questions proved that their minds were travelling alongside mine. We all examined and discussed many great questions together."

"I had arrived there after weeks of moving about and many sleepless nights owing to air raids, feeling tired and sleepy and wishing I had never accepted the engagement. I left that village feeling twice the man who had arrived, feeling refreshed and heartened."

CORRECT PICTURE

"I told them something of what I thought about the future of democracy and they showed me the very foundation stones on which democracy is built."

"I say, therefore, that with such men here and with those on your side, we can change the world. I mentioned all this because it gives a correct picture of England and English life against that which many of you must have had imprinted on your minds—a picture of a sleepy England and of people knowing nothing about what was happening ten miles from their homes."

"We are supposed to be a mentally lazy people. That term still sticks to some sections of our people, but it is true to say that as a nation we are intelligent."

INTELLECTUAL SOARING

"Now I find a great intellectual soaring. My mail is daily filled with letters and manifestoes from people who know exactly how England and Europe can be reconstructed. In spite of the paper shortage, books and pamphlets on international affairs pour from the presses."

"All this intellectual activity is taking place at a time when conditions are against it, when air raids and black-outs and difficulties of transport make it hard for people to come together. In spite of war conditions there is far more of this intellectual activity than before. Hundreds of thousands of people who have been lazy-minded before have been jolted into wakefulness. I mean that the very existence of such classes and discussion groups shows that the people as a whole are waking up."

"All this points one way. It shows that our people, in spite of handicaps and difficulties, want to learn and to argue on things they want to know about and out of that will come a great democratic community."

An interlapping three-triangle Y.W.C.A. pin, the official emblem symbolising the fellowship of women throughout the world, was pinned on the left shoulder of Madame Chiang by Miss Lilyan K. Haas on behalf of the American Y.W.C.A. at an impressive ceremony at the Chialing House in the presence of 400 Y.W.C.A. members, high Chinese officials, diplomats, members of the foreign community and pressmen.

In presenting the gift to Madame Chiang, Miss Haas, Secretary of the National Board for China, said:

"For many years the women of America have felt a special sense of relationship to the women of China. Since the outbreak of the war, as Chinese women have given themselves completely in their country's cause, keeping alive the spark of freedom, heroically struggling for the values we too hold dear, an even greater sense of oneness has been created."

"We have tried to express in various ways our admiration, our satisfaction in the strengthening of the bond, and our desire to help. Sometimes it has been in words of sympathy, at times through messages of understanding and goodwill back and forth and again through practical assistance."

THREE DEMOCRACIES

"The emblem which is to be presented today symbolises the fellowship of women. In particular its three triangles represent the three democracies, China, Great Britain and the United States of America. Pins like this will be bought by American women as a way of contributing toward a large Christian Association for war fund raised by the Young Women's emergency work in China and Great Britain."

"Special presentations are being made to three women of these countries: Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt, Queen Elizabeth of England and now to Madame Chiang Kai-shek. The pins will have added significance to American women because of this link."

"To you, Madame Chiang, on behalf of the Young Women's Christian Association of the United States, on behalf of the women and girls of America, I present this emblem to you who represent to us Chinese womanhood, united in fellowship with us, struggling together for righteousness, for peace and for justice."

Madame Chiang Kai-shek, wearing a navy blue silk gown with red trimmings and blue-velvet high-heeled shoes to match, said in her acceptance speech:

"Were I to take this emblem, which has significance to the women of America, as a personal tribute it would not be fitting and I would not dare accept. I accept the emblem not as a personal tribute but as a tribute to the entire womanhood of China, and I thank the women of America for their gift and their co-operation with us."

The presentation is a mark of fellowship, friendliness and co-operation."

COMMUNIST PARTY BEHIND STEEL STRIKE

BETHLEHEM, Pennsylvania, Mar. 25 (Reuter).—Carrying out a strike called yesterday, half of the 4,000 men on the midnight shift at the Bethlehem Steel Company's factory did not report for work.

Union officials said that they hoped to have the plant entirely stopped by midnight on Wednesday.

Mr. Martin Dies, head of the Commission of Inquiry into un-American Activities, said: "There is undisputable evidence that a Communist party is working towards a complete tie-up of the steel industry."

The Washington correspondent of the New York Times says that according to War Department estimates, over 1,000,000 days of work have been lost since January 1 by strikes of workers on company contracts.

An official told him that 20 are now in progress, of which eight concerned contracts of major importance to the Army.

INVESTMENTS IN PROVINCIAL ENTERPRISES

With a view to hastening the economic development of Fukien the provincial government has decided to reorganise the three provincially-operated companies, namely, the Transportation Company, the Trading Company, and the Development Company, into special joint stock limited companies which welcome public investments.

Of the total of $5,000,000 capitalisation of the Transportation Company, government shares will occupy $3,000,000 while the remaining $2,000,000 shares are to be open to public subscription.

The capitalisation of the Trading Company is fixed at $4,000,000 divided into $3,000,000 in government shares and $1,000,000 in public shares, while that of the Development Company is $15,000,000 to be made up of $10,000,000 government shares and $5,000,000 public shares.—(Central News) called, outstanding women have not been lacking in China, but the organisation and direction of women's activities have been lacking. The Y.W.C.A. has supplied this lack and has directed China's womanhood toward service. Service is the motto of the Y.W.C.A.—service where it is most needed. The Y.W.C.A. has kept on under all conditions and difficult circumstances.

"Miss Haas," continued Madame Chiang, "spoke significantly of the three democracies, the United States, Great Britain and China. From our sister republics, much aid, moral and material, has been given; and our thanks go to the United States and Great Britain. In the future, may we work for victory, not only for China, but for human justice, freedom and international co-operation. On this occasion I extend the greetings of Chinese women to the women of America."

"Surprise guest at the ceremony was Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek who, dressed in a blue-grey long gown and a black jacket, arrived together with Madame Chiang. In a brief speech he enjoined the Chinese women to exert even greater efforts in order to live up to the expectations that have been placed in them by their American sisters."

American Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson also spoke a few words: "As a man I have no right to participate in this affair but as the American Ambassador I take considerable pride in the recognition given by American women to Chinese women. I have watched them, particularly in the past ten years, and I have admired greatly their courage, fortitude and resourcefulness. I congratulate the American Y.W.C.A. for this recognition to Chinese women through Madame Chiang."

NO HAPPIER CHOICE

Mrs. K.C. Wu, wife of the Mayor of Chungking, who presided at the ceremony said, among other things, in her opening remarks:

"As we understand only two other personages, besides Madame Chiang, are being honoured with this gift—Mrs. Roosevelt and Queen Elizabeth. In the selection of the leading women of the world today, verily no happier choice could have been made. As persons who know how to use their high positions to the best advantage and

Imperial Forces Are Sweeping On To Harrar: Jaragub Capture Told

IMPERIAL FORCES ARE SWEEPING ON TO HARRAR ALONG THE NARROW MOUNTAIN ROADS, states a message from London.

A Cairo communique reported that much equipment and war material had been taken along the Harrar-Jijiga road. Although Harrar had been declared an open city the Italians are reported to have made defence lines there.

In Southern Abyssinia, operations north of Neghelli continue to develop.

Reports of the capture of Jaragub reveal that it was taken by a body of Australian troops much smaller than the Italian garrison of 800. The operations lasted for nine hours.

The main defences of the Italians were built on four hills and these were dotted with artillery and machine-gun posts.

Great stores of ammunition were found in an underground tunnel.

IN SANDSTORM

The British forces had to fight in a sandstorm and this was followed by hand-to-hand fighting in which hand-grenades were used.

The Italians fought strongly for nearly nine hours but at 2.30 in the afternoon firing ceased.

A daring R. A. F. pilot dived low and silenced an Italian machine-gun post and also signalled a message that a party of Australians had been isolated and were being hard pressed. This message enabled the party to be rescued.

Many of the enemy wounded were taken to hospital in R. A. F. planes.

GRAZIANI RESIGNS

ROME, Mar. 25 (Reuter).—Marshal Graziani, Commander-in-chief of the Italian forces in Ethiopia, has resigned at his own request, according to an official announcement here today. He is succeeded by General Italo Gariboldi, who is appointed Governor of Libya and Superior Commanding Officer of Italian armed forces in North Africa.

MORE GERMAN UNITS

A message from London adds that patriot forces are pushing ahead in Abyssinia, while in Tripolitania there is every possibility of the Germans increasing their armoured units, and the forces already there cannot be ignored.

It was officially stated that the whole of British Somaliland is now under British control.

JAPANESE RAIDERS OVER KIANGSI

KIAN, Mar. 25 (Central).—Ten Japanese aircraft, flying in batches, yesterday raided various Kiangsi cities. Several bombs were dropped on Loping, east of the Poyang Lake near the Anhwei border, but the damage done was insignificant. One plane reconnoitred over West Kiangsi, while five others raided Shangkai.

SHANGHAI, Mar. 25 (Reuter).—A Japanese concern, the Central Railway Company, is planning to build parallel tracks to the Shanghai-Nanking Railway in the near future, says the Shanghai MAI-NIGHT, a Japanese paper. The new line, it is understood, will be completed in 1942.

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Mar. 25 (Reuter).—A detachment of 100 United States marines, who arrived here, is officially described as "a token force symbolising the co-operation between the United States and Britain in the establishment of Caribbean bases."

SHANGHAI, Mar. 24 (Reuter).—Following yesterday's bombings, Police precautions were tightened up in both foreign areas.

Hundreds Of Americans Training In England

Between 200 and 300 American citizens are training in British army centres. Adventure, moral principles, political beliefs and the "waggle o' the kilt" were among the incentives which sent scores of Americans across the United States-Canadian border to join the Canadian army at the outbreak of war.

Now, found mainly in two Scottish units recruited in the provinces of Ontario and Quebec, they are undergoing active phase of the war.

Their exact number is unknown because officially they are all "Canadians" and most of them are content to remain like that for the time being. Even their officers aren't sure of the real nationality of some of them. As long as the man does his job, they aren't particularly interested.

Two Americans in the Quebec units named 25 fellow-countrymen serving with them. They estimated there must be 100 to 150 altogether, and the "Ontario Americans" claimed the same figure.

A large percentage of the men have had experience in the U.S. Army or Marines. Most of them come from the north-west states and border cities, but some are from as far away as Kansas, Mississippi and Texas.

One of the veterans is Lance Corporal Jim Tracey, who hasn't had a fixed address for a good many years. Fourteen years in the U.S. Marines took him to China and South America, as well as through five engagements in the Great War. Later for a while he helped to manage a C.C.C. camp. Now he is with a sniping section.

There are several ex-marines in the snipers. One is Ian Glover, a young Iowan, who, followed up four years in the U.S. Marines with three years in the Coast Guard service. He left a bank desk in Brooklyn N.Y., to join the Canadians last April.

BELONGED TO 69TH

Another is Jack Mogk of Brooklyn, who served six years in the U.S. Army, including a term of service at Panama, and was a member of a picked rifle team. For a while he belonged to the old "Fighting 69th" of the National Guard. He joined the Canadians right after the outbreak of war.

Mogk, like some others of the Americans, commented on the easy discipline of Canadian wartime troops.

"Discipline here isn't nearly as strict as what we were used to," he said. "The men and non-coms are much closer together, and the officers stand for a lot more too."

Like Glover, Mogk joined up "to see a little action." They haven't seen much yet but, they have hopes.

Pete Prince, born in Brookline, Mass., left a Boston civil engineering firm and tried to join up the day before Canada entered the war.

A big factor in Prince's choice of units was the kilt. In 1939 Prince saw his future Scottish regiment parade through Boston streets with pipes, swirling kilts and fixed bayonets, and he vowed that if he ever joined anything military they'd be his choice.

Now a headquarters runner Prince is still keen on his unit even though battledress has replaced the colourful kilt.

"BOYS EATING IT UP"

"I'd stack this bunch against anybody," he said. "They're pushing us through a stiff training here and the boys are eating it up."

Born in Pittsburgh of Scottish parents, Corporal Tom MacDougal saw three years with the U.S. Cavalry, and later served on the Elizabeth, N. J., police force. He got to Canada the day after war was declared and joined immediately. Now he drives a headquarters car for his unit. His wife waited for him in Pittsburgh.

"I had a brother who was killed in the last war," MacDougal said. "He joined the Canadian army in 1914. I figured I would take up where he left off."

There are scores of other Americans who felt the call of foreign battlefields. Young John Perry and his brother Ed, of Winchester, Mass., joined in the early days of the war. John was formerly a tree surgeon, Ed a shipper in a factory. Joe Fleming left a biology laboratory in Philadelphia to don the kilt and then battledress. Another Philadelphia, George Glenney, was a soldier in the Speed Kenyon of Kansas ex-Navy men. Archie Black left a job in a New York hospital to join up.

SOLDIER OF FORTUNE

One of the star turns of the American contingent is Dixie Harwood, of Virginia. Hard-bitten soldier of fortune, Harwood has seen service in the U.S. Army as well as unofficial action in Spain and China.

Another American is drawing, six-foot-three Ford Adams, of Temple, Texas. Sitting on a fence watching an American football work out on an English field, Adams discussed oil wells with a youngster from Oklahoma, "Tex," who once was a policeman, has seen oil well fires blown out with nitro, and he figures bursting bombs won't be anything new for him.

FIRE-PROOF PAPER

Mr. H. Morimatsu, proprietor of an asbestos factory in Kumamoto, prefecture claims to have succeeded in making fireproof paper and is now preparing for its mass production, the Kobe Shimbun states.

In view of the inflammable nature of Japanese houses, Mr. Morimatsu has been endeavouring to find a way to reduce the vulnerability of urban areas against incendiary bombs. After three years of experimentation with asbestos he has succeeded in manufacturing fire-proof paper.

In a recent test the new paper was held over a candle-flame, the only visible effect being slight scorching at the edges. If the ceilings, walls and "fusuma" of houses are lined with this paper, he claims, they will be absolutely fire-proof. Mr. Morimatsu is planning on mass producing his paper as the necessary raw materials are said to be available in abundance.

SINO CURRENCY PROBLEMS

BRITISH CREDITS "HI-JACKED"

LONDON, Mar. 25 (Reuter).—While nothing official has been disclosed here regarding the position of the Chinese Stabilisation Fund, it is believed that Britain naturally wishes to ensure any sterling credits to the Fund against "high-jacking" through Nanking notes being forced on Shanghai and against any other undesirable dissipation.

Given satisfactory assurances in this connexion it is understood that sterling credits to the Fund would undoubtedly be implemented.

It is pointed out in Far Eastern banking circles in London that in any case the main task of supporting the Chinese dollar is being shouldered by the United States, whose $100,000,000 credit amply secures Chinese currency against devaluations by Nanking or Tokyo.

FREE MARKET

With this credit, it is believed in London that the Chinese Stabilisation Fund could easily support or rally the Chinese dollar whenever the Fund thinks fit. The recent easiness of the Chinese dollar is ascribed in London last week to the Fund's unwillingness to

COAL MINE FOUND IN OSAKA

Messrs. Shono and Ishida, officials attached to the Osaka Municipal Industrial Research Institute, recently announced that following two years of survey they found a rich atan (lowest grade of coal) mine in a 400-acre spread of land in the southern part of Osaka prefecture.

According to tests, the coal seam, about 85 feet below the ground in the upper-stream of Makino River in Senhoku-gun, Osaka prefecture, is about 1 1/2 ft. deep. About 600 feet away from this place it is about 2 1/2 ft. deep and about 40 feet away from the second spot, about 3 1/2 feet deep.

Analysis of samples from these places show that they contain from 5,650 to 5,800 calories of heat which is much better than this type of coal from Ube Tokiwa. This atan can be used for production of superior grade coal and is suitable also for automobile fuel and household use.

ELECTRIC PLANT ON WHEELS

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—An electric power sub-station on wheels that can travel 50 miles an hour and feed out enough electricity for a city of 10,000, is ready for 1941's storm damage to electric lines. The plant is built on a trailer, and is no larger than a medium-size truck. It offers a new step in quick restoration of electricity when power lines go out and for bombed communities in war it has special possibilities.

The General Electric Co. designed the portable power plant. It has a retractable, trolley-like tower rising from the roof to make the connection with a power line. Inside are transformers and switching systems to distribute the electricity. Two types have been made, one for large communities and the other for small.

To make sure that children or prowlers do not burn themselves, the parts which might be touched by outsiders are set behind a heavy steel screen. The rest of the plant is sheathed like an armoured truck behind steel plates.

"Wharf Rats" Active In Shanghai

SHIP AND CARGO OWNERS AS VICTIMS

With headquarters in Chinese hotels in Shanghai, organised bands of "wharf rats" who have been operating a new kind of racketeering since the beginning of the Sino-Japanese hostilities, have been increasing their activities recently and continue to exact a toll from Chinese consignees of cargo, ships' commanders and others connected with the floating population, reports the North China Daily News.

Influential because of their rumoured association with guerrillas and their insight into the workings of the underworld, they have been terrorising Chinese owners of coastal vessels and cargoes and are continuing to board vessels without let or hindrance.

FULLY INFORMED

The "wharf rats" are said to be fully informed regarding the movements of Chinese vessels and the cargoes in their holds and exact as much as twenty to 30 per cent. from owners of the goods according to their market value.

Their receipts monthly are believed to average tens of thousands of dollars and their demands for loans or commissions from shipowners and others are promptly met, showing the extent to which they are held in dread by the Chinese.

GEN. CAVALLERO SUPERSEDED

ITALIAN REGIMENTS BADLY SMASHED

LONDON, Mar. 25 (Reuter).—Artillery activity was lively on both sides in Albania on Sunday. Several enemy batteries were silenced, says a Greek Press Ministry statement broadcast by the Athens radio last night.

"In the region of Aoros River in the central sector, the Italians launched a local attack which was met with heavy fire from our lines before it could develop. The Italians again suffered extremely heavy casualties."

Information given by Italian prisoners confirms that General Cavallero has ceased to command the Italian Army in Albania and that General Geloso is the new commander-in-chief.

It is also confirmed that the Second Regiments of Bersaglieri were badly smashed up in the battle of Kilsura, losing more than 50 per cent. of their effectives.

A battalion of 800 Alpini was left with only two officers and 80 men.

Accountant-General And Disciplinary Powers

secured, Mr. Forrest, replied in the affirmative.

Questioned further, Mr. Forrest said that the cashier sitting at his desk was unsecured. Very often, said Mr. Forrest, and even as recent as up to Monday, people sent in money with their applications.

AFTERNOON HEARING

When the hearing resumed in the afternoon, the Chief Justice, addressing Mr. Forrest, said: You told us about a system which you introduced whereby the money changer paid in by cheque the aggregate of Hongkong currency of the amount he had taken in deposits. Who made the list of depositors?

Mr. Forrest replied that the list was made on board ship by an assistant immigration officer and not by the money changer.

Mr. Brown then asked Mr. E. W. Pudney, A.C.A., Accountant-General, a few questions about the system of book-keeping and accountability.

Mr. Brown: What I am not quite clear about is, have you, as a senior official of the Treasury no responsibility to see that the system is actually put into force?

Mr. Pudney: My responsibility is governed by the fact that I have no disciplinary powers over other departments. I can do nothing further than to report to Government if the system is not carried out.

DIFFICULTY IN SYSTEM

The Chairman: You did not know just before your report that all was not well—I knew there was difficulty in the system in which accounts were being kept.

Mr. Brown: The Treasury has no responsibility?

Mr. Pudney: My actual responsibility is to see that a proper accounting system is established in every department. I have no power to dismiss a staff or even reprimand for not carrying out its duties. Even in my own department, my powers are very limited.

Replying further to Mr. Brown, Mr. Pudney said that he kept the Financial Secretary informed of the position from time to time, in fact, daily, and he understood that the Financial Secretary informed the Colonial Secretary of the unsatisfactory nature of the accounts.

Mr. Brown: You must have known well before the Ordinance came into force that the system was not satisfactory. But you did not make any report?—Not in writing until the middle of January.

WAS RECOMMENDED

Replying to Mr. Forrest, Mr. Pudney said that as far as he could remember Mr. A. J. G. Taylor, of the Supreme Court, was recommended to the Immigration Office for use on the accounting side.

Mr. Forrest: You are prepared to say then that Mr. A. J. G. Taylor, of the Treasury, approached me regarding Mr. A. J. G. Taylor, rather than I approached Mr. A. J. G. Taylor?—I cannot remember.

After questions, reported earlier on, had been asked by the Chairman regarding the appointment of the General Agent, Mr. A. J. G. Taylor, Assistant Immigration Officer, gave evidence. He said that he was Accountant of the Supreme Court until the end of November last year and on Dec. 1 he went to the Immigration Office where he was now in charge in the New Territories.

NOT PERFECT

Replying to the Chairman, Mr. Taylor said that as a result of enquiries since Feb. 1 he had found that the system of accounting in the Immigration Office was not a perfect one.

Replying to Mr. Forrest, Mr. Taylor said that he had found it rather strange that the head of a department should be surrounded by so many clerks and that the public could barge into the room. He (Mr. Taylor) had had to wait in a queue before consulting Mr. Forrest.

Mr. Tsui Wai-pul, senior shroff, who was transferred from the Post Office to the Immigration Department on Nov. 18 last, testified to the cash book kept for passport fees and immigration fees. Witness only received a certain portion of the cash and he closed the accounts daily at 4 p.m. and the money received was paid into the Treasury.

Other shroffs handed witness slips of the money received by them and he made the entries. The cash book was for the old form of permits and he could not remember when the new permits were formally introduced.

The hearing was adjourned at 4.50 p.m.

ELLIS KADOORIE SCHOOL SPORTS

Chan Pak-wing Wins Senior Championship

The annual sports meeting of Ellis Kadoorie School was held at Queen's College Ground, Causeway Bay, yesterday under ideal weather conditions.

Keen competition was witnessed in all events, and a few good times were recorded. Chan Pak-wing of Class 5 won the Senior Championship, while Cheung Wai-nam of Class 5B the Junior Championship. The Class Championship went to Class 5, who thus become holders of the Kadoorie Shield.

Mr. Chan Kai-lau, the Sports Master, and Mr. Yu Kai-shui, the Physical Instructor, were responsible for the successful organization of the events.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Mr. C. Mycock, the headmaster, introduced Mrs. Tam Pui-chuen who graciously distributed the prizes. She was given a beautiful bouquet and three hearty cheers.

CHESS RESULTS

The adjourned game from Round 4 of the Colony Open Chess Championship between E. Zimmerman and L. Karpovich was completed last night, resulting in a win for the latter.

Karpovich now has 74 points from 8 games and has but to draw one of his two remaining games against Zimmerman or Cornhead to win the championship.

In the Junior Tournament, To Yu-lau beat Wan Lee last night, and in the Kowloon Chess Club Junior Championship, J. Grefalda beat Y. A. Fong.

FIGHT FOR FREEDOM

INDEPENDENCE DAY IN GREECE

"This year Greeks all over the world will have good reason to celebrate March 25—their NATIONAL DAY OF INDEPENDENCE," said M. STAVREDI, well-known B.B.C. commentator on Greek affairs, when he broadcast from London yesterday on the gallant resistance that the people of Greece have put up against Axis aggression.

VITAL DUTY

For 400 years, the Greeks have preserved their language, religion and spirit of freedom," continued M. Stavredi, "and the modern Greeks have shown the world today that they can defend themselves again. To the Greek, the duty of defending his freedom is a vital one and their conduct has won them more honour and respect than anything they have achieved.

"The Greeks first won universal respect in this country when in October last General Metaxas rejected the Italian ultimatum.

"Then came the magnificent advance into Albania and now after their unique achievements in the winter campaign, they have smashed the first onslaught of Signor Mussolini's spring offensive."

M. Stavredi said that the Greeks had proved their ability not only in attack, but in defence. Now the Axis powers had two weapons for securing Greece's submission—one was through their air forces and the other by means of their mechanized army.

ITALIAN FAILURE

In the Albanian campaign, the Italians had failed in both these forms of attack. As far as the Italian air force was concerned, it had suffered a most humiliating defeat at the hands of the British air force.

M. Stavredi went on to give a few details of the successes of the British and Greek pilots against the Italian airmen and declared that the Greek spirit of independence had yet to be quelled.

"They are fighting for their freedom and mean to go on fighting until it is saved," said M. Stavredi. "The Greeks have no illusions as to the part the Axis Powers will play if they and Britain are defeated. We believe that aggression must be met, and that all nations must be given the same right to live.

FIGHT FOR FREEDOM

"The power and the resources of the United States are very well understood in Greece. The Greeks are well aware of what American industry can produce and they know now that their army will get all that it requires. The possibility of turning the superiority of the enemy into inferiority is being brought nearer.

"This year, Independence Day once more finds the Greeks fighting for their freedom. Every man and woman is doing their part. The victorious army is now ready to defend the Bulgarian frontier."

SIR OSWALD STOLL ESCAPES BOMB

Sir Oswald Stoll, seventy-four-year-old chairman of Stoll's Treasures Corporation, told the shareholders' annual meeting what happened when he and his wife were in a bombed London building.

"We stood perfectly still in the centre of the room trying to keep our heads while it seemed that an earthquake was whirling all round us.

"Within sixteen inches of us a girl was struck dead. Another one near was buried up to the neck in debris. It is clear that my wife and I are not intended to be bombed to death."
